FOREWORD

The following views will picture the magnificent scenery of the mountain setting and the modern physical plant of Mars Hill College. The 1961 LAUREL then recalls the familiar faces of the Administration, the Faculty, and the Student Body as the paper comes off the press with the news of the year's events.

An enrollment of 1200 men and women from various parts of the nation and world gathered at Mars Hill in the fall of 1960 to participate in activities as varied as the personalities of the students. The featured events — Homecoming, Society Anniversaries, B.S.U. Parties, May Day, and Graduation — provided the headlines of the year; the Classes and Athletics completed the news.

Join us now as we read the evening newspaper and review the big and small events that made up Mars Hill College, 1960-61.

The only woman on the Focus Week team is Mrs. Catharine Bahner, who teaches seventh grade English, is a board member for Carver School, Southwestern, and New Orleans seminaries. She works extensively in summer camps and with college students. Mr. Charles Bryan, a Texan, is the Southern Baptist field representative for the Bahamas, Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador, and Peru.

partments. Seeing that the auditorium was beyond control, they concentrated their efforts in preventing the fire from spreading to adjacent buildings.

The fire totally destroyed the fifty-five year old building, causing an estimated loss of $65,000. Included in the estimate were three pianos and movie projection equipment.

At approximately 10:15 p.m., fire was discovered in the basement of Spilman dormitory for boys, located across the street from the auditorium. The fire which originated in a broom closet, was soon under control, doing an estimated $5,000 damage.

Dormitories Plan Holiday Parties For Last Weekend

To aid the students of Mars Hill each dormitory will be holding a party during the week-end.

The girls' dorms will hold their parties in the parlor, following the concert in the Auditorium by the Campus Choir.

Huffman dorm has planned a party. There will also be group singing, refreshments and other entertainment.

"The Littlest Angel" will be presented by the girls of Edna Moore. Participating on the program will be Nancy Balentine, Jeanie MacLean, Linda McMillan, and Gwen Davisoff. There will also be a choir to provide the background music. The blue decorations will be in harmony with the theme. Group singing and refreshments will add to the evening's entertainment.

Stroup will have a program with music, dramatic readings, pantomimes, and various other forms of miscellaneous entertainment. As a part of tradition Santa Claus will be on hand.

The girls in Treat will present Luke's translation of the Christmas story entitled "A Christmas Service." Becky Watson will narrate the program. Christmas carols will be sung throughout the play by a choir be viewed by the student body in chapel services on December 12 and 13. This year's presentation will be "The Gift of Tehyin" by John D. Tumpane. The setting will be the Imperial palace in Japan on the night of Christ's birth in Bethlehem of Judea.

Richard Dillingham and Roy Mehaffey will portray the roles of Hakase, the interpreter and Matsu Suinin, Emperor of Japan. Maraski will be played by Donna Day. Faith Edwards and Kay Shadoan will enact the parts of Tachibana and Oskidori. Hariko, Sakazuki and Tehyin will be played by Rosalyn Skelton, Jonlyn Wrenn, and Belva Hudson respectively.

Charles Blackstock Robinson, native of Mars Hill, now a drama student of Lee Strasberg in New York, was a guest at the evening. He is known on the stage as Charlie Blackstock.

After the other events of the evening, Blackstock spent two hours answering questions concerning choice of drama teachers, schools, advantages of college training, chances of getting early break, necessary qualities of temperament, and physical, financial problems, and things which a would-be must consider.

At the end of his discussion, he gave a demonstration of the Lee Strasberg method of acting. This was an exercise in which he acted by the use of sensory, represented an object, in this instance

ADMINISTRATION

Try Original Writing

Among the eleven hundred students enrolled in Mars Hill College, surely a great number of persons who enjoy writing would be interested in having their talents displayed to students. The Hilltop staff tries to keep this idea alive by selecting the articles for the literary spring.

Each student has been required to write in English class and the teachers have been using the Hilltop staff. The best and most original have been used in the literary edition. The staff has decided to change its policy, chief of which has not been as good as the original. Perhaps one does not write as well by assignment! Previously, it was another English paper to be graded

Aids World Needs

The LISTEN (Love Impels Sacrifice Toward Every Need) campaign is a program of missionary education and concern originated by North Carolina Baptist students seven years ago.

With Enthusiasm

The annual faculty play, "George Washington", presented on the Saturday night of the previous year, brought the delightful comedy of the colonial past into the livable present. The characters of the play were played by the faculty and students.

THE PRESIDENT AND HIS MESSAGE

The students presently enrolled in the college have consistently demonstrated the quality of leadership that is required in the world today. Such endowment carries with it great responsibility. It is a privilege to be associated with students whose promise of success in life seems assured.

All of us are indebted to the members of the LAUREL Staff for the high standard which they set for the LAUREL and for the quality of the book they have produced.

Sophmores Elect Stamey to Lead Class; Collier, Creel, and Shadoan to Assist

Ron Stamey has once again been elected to lead the class of '61. Art Collier is incoming vice-president, with Rosalyn Creech and Kay Shadoan chosen as secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Ron, a native of High Point, served as freshman class president last year. An active member of Philomathia, Ron was C-I secretary. He is also music director of the BSU, and a member of the College Choir. Ron is an engineering student.

Euthalian Art Collier, from Greenville, S. C., is secretary of Myers Dormitory and first vice-president of the BSU council. He is a liberal arts student.

Secretary Rosalyn Creel is from Charlotte, R. C., president of Noni, now secretary of the Shadoan, from Mars Hill. She was C-I secretary and is librarian of the College. Both Rosalyn and Art are liberal arts students.

Officers were named by secret ballot during a class meeting Friday, October 25, in the Student Union. Sam Beard, Randy Ragdale, Hele W. Moss were opponents.

Speak For Yourself

Saturday, November 5, Mars Hill College experienced an extremely rare event. Someone dared to present to the student body and faculty, a production of supreme and beautiful qualities. Unfortunately, there were members of the audience present who were capable of neither comprehending nor appreciating its finer qualities.

The play, The Cave Dwellers is a beautifully written depiction of humanity and its more REALISTIC values. William Saroyan's compassionate descriptions, and the Mars Hill Dramateers skilful interpretation of this drama seemed overruled only by the apparent misunderstanding of life itself within the audience.

As quoted from one of the many criticisms on the professional but, "The Cave Dwellers is a pathetic tragedy!" As quoted from one of our own school cast, "The audience made me feel as if I was a humorous sin." Perhaps in a short while, Mars Hill will be ready for true drama; but now? Speak for yourself . . .

United America Can Win Peace And Prosperity

Things are said and done during hot political campaigns that tend to make some of free America's traditional institutions and practices appear rather ridiculous. Tempers flare, prejudices and emotions go on a binge. But when the elections are over and we survey the results in the light of calm reason and history we get a reassuring perspective of the true values and lasting principles of our democratic way of life.

Only a united America . . .

With Stephenson, Shelton, Creel, McLendon

Jayne Stephenson, Rosalyn Creel, Page Shelton, and Mackie McLendon were elected to lead their respective societies through C-I Term, 1960. Jean Yoder, Emily Sodergren, Faith Edwards, Ron Cooke, and Allan Clark will serve as vice-presidents.

Jayne Stephenson, a music major from Fuquay Springs, heads Clio's slate of officers. Jean Yoder from Hickory will be backing her as vice-president. The secretary and censor chairs will be filled by Kay Shadoan and Ferial Forbus, respectively.

Martha Compton will head the religious ille of Clio, as she fills her position as chaplain. The enthusiasm will be led by Virginia Webb who is serving as chorister.

But if such an incident as the taking of several valuable mathematic books from a library display recently is a reflection of student's attitude toward the future it will be difficult to keep department's standards intact. These books were a group purchased for the mathematics department with emphasis upon when MH becomes a senior college. All of them have been completely erased. This is only one step toward the destruction of a name in high esteem. To you the rising sophomores, we leave it to you to maintain and cherish the high standard they may live forever.

Alumni Return to Homecoming

Mars Hill campus overflowed with excitement over Homecoming weekend. Approximately 80 alumni registered at the Alumni Office and numbers of others visited informally on the campus.

Athelma Smith Goodrum (Mrs. J. F.) class of 1912, was the oldest alumna registered. She is a housewife in Lexington. From the 1920's five persons returned; from the '30's four; from the '40's seven. By far the larger numbers were from recent classes, the class of '60 leading with 38 registering.

Most alumni came from N. C. and surrounding states with Maryland the most distant one represented.

Of the 1960 alumni registering many are attending school; others hold various positions. Those working include Bill Best, Naomi Carr, Shirley R.

The C-I Term of societies came to a close last Thursday with elections for Anniversary-Reception Term, which is one of the most exciting of all terms. The new officers immediately began intensive work on the program for reception on December 3.

On last Wednesday night fifty-eight new members were initiated into Nonpareil.

To all the C-I Term officers and to all the Nons who have worked hard and faithfully to make this term successful, retiring president Rosalyn Creel wishes to express appreciation.

Clio-Non Tea To Be Feb. 28

On February 28, 1960, from 3:00 to 5:00 P. M., the annual Clio-Non Tea will be held in the Edna Moore preparation of their August College Issue. We have been asked to select the "best dressed" girl on our campus, taking the following criteria into consideration: 1. Good figure, beautiful posture. 2. Clean, shining, well-kept hair. 3. Imagination in managing a clothes budget. 4. Good grooming — not just neat,

Mars Hill College, from Greensboro, has been chosen as one of the five finalists in the Miss North Carolina Professional Photography contest. As a student at Mars Hill College, Joyce was chosen as a representative in the "Miss Laurel" contest and is also a member of the Poetry Court.

The photography contest was open to all professional photographers in the state, and they submitted three photographs of their candidate to be viewed by a "blind" jury, who in turn selected the five finalists. These three photographs consisted of two full length poses and one close up. The five finalists

SELECTED BY

Kays Gary

February 2, 1961

Dear Charles:

I've made the choice and I hope it meets with approval although there's bound to be some argument because of the evident close competition.

Making a choice from a picture alone is always difficult. In making that choice I try to pretend I am from 18 to 21 years old (and that's some pretending) faced with the necessity of picking a "steady" from pictures alone.

I do this because the choice is for young men of that age.

In this face I have chosen I see intelligence and warmth and beauty and character in fine balance. More than anything else there is a quality of selflessness--a need to give more than to get. That's the sum of it.

Thank you for asking me to name your queen...and congratulate the others for me, too. They're a fine lot.

Sincerely,

kays gary

Kays Gary is well known in the two Carolinas for his editorials which appear daily in The Charlotte Observer. Mr. Gary is a native of Fallston, N. C., and was a student at Mars Hill in 1937-38, before going on to graduate in Journalism from the University of North Carolina. At U.N.C.

he met and married Alice Howell, a M.H.C. graduate of 1941. After three years in the Army until 1945, he became sports editor of The Shelby Star for seven years before going to the Observer. Since that time he has become widely known for his humorous and informative articles.

MHC Debaters Enter Tourney

On Thursday, October 20, the Mars Hill Debaters met the Gardner-Webb Debaters for a practice debate before the Novice Debate Tournament which is being held this weekend at Wake Forest. The subject for debate this year is "Resolved: That the United States should adopt a program of compulsory health insurance for all citizens".

The Mars Hill

Among the numerous side show attractions will be the hairless dog, the groundhog, and a swimming match.

Decorations, atmosphere, and refreshments will be in keeping with the spirit of Hallowe'en.

Committee members responsible for the evening's entertainment include posters, Jean Yoder; decorations, Carolyn Everidge, Fol-ornc Gray, Jane Fogle, and Sandra Nolan; program, Zella Moore, and Cecelia Rigsbee; In-vitations, Debbie Edwards and Rita Reid.

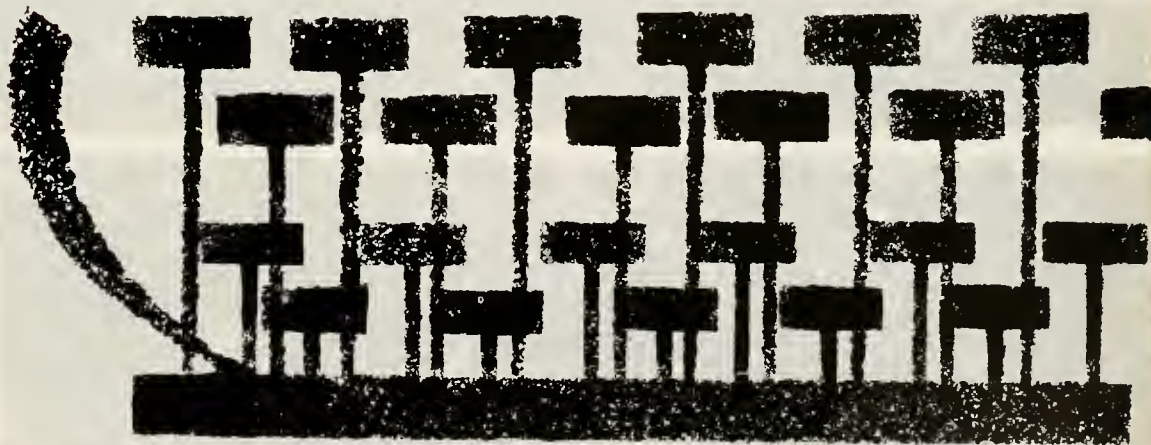

So mount your broomstick, grab your black cat and jack-o-lantern, and join the festivities. Forget your tricks. Come have a treat!

Receiving the 1961 LAUREL is among the last important news stories at Mars Hill, but we certainly hope it is not the least. We should like to thank the student body of Mars Hill College for the honor of compiling the 1961 LAUREL. We have tried to make this book as accurate and complete a record as possible of student life throughout the past year, and we hope that this yearbook will help each of you to retain some of the pleasant memories of Mars Hill College in 1960-61.

A special word of thanks is due to Mr. Walter Smith for the excellent photographs he has taken for the 1961 LAUREL. We also sincerely thank Mr. Robert Chapman for taking his time to be our advisor.

It has taken a lot of work to put out the LAUREL, but our only hope is that you, the student body, will enjoy and treasure it as much as we treasure the honor of having been chosen to put it out.

Mondays and Wednesdays proved to be hectic days for members of the HILLTOP staff as sports writers gathered latest statistics, reporters got last minute stories written, advertising managers collected last minute ads, typists got material in final form, and editors did page make-ups.

The final touches were added on Thursday nights as the page proofs are read. Finally on Saturday the completed product reached the hands of Mars Hillians.

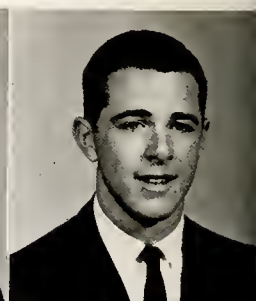

However, the task was not completed by placing copies in the Student Center for students to get them; the circulation staff had yet to make sure that copies of the HILLTOP were sent to all the trustees and past alumni; and the exchange staff had to see that HILLTOPS were sent to various colleges and high schools.

The staff sincerely thank Miss Collie Garner for all the time and work she put into every edition of the HILLTOP.

CLIO-PHILOMATHIA

No newspaper is complete without its society page and no society page is complete without Clio-Philomathian Literary Society. The Hall of Friendship is a Christian society and has as its ideals Truth, Purity, and Fidelity. The C-I term opened the year with a mad rush for new members. After the new members had been duly initiated came the Anniversary Term. Phi celebrated its Seventieth Anniversary by presenting to the Clios So Proudly We Hail. The main theme of this Civil War program was "Does the end justify the means?" The Clio Reception staged the production Under the Big Top. All through the year Clios and Phis are encouraged to improve and develop their talents, especially in Forensics Term.. By promoting competition within their own hall and with their cousin societies, Clios and Phis have lived up to the name literary societies.

NONPAREIL-EUTHALIAN

A constant headline on the society page at Mars Hill is Nonpareil-Euthalian Literary Societies. They have as their ideals Dignity, Simplicity, and Conservatism. Each member is urged and expected to uphold these ideals. Page one of the society year was the C-I Term, when a campaign was staged for new members. Page two featured the Anniversary Term in which the Euthalians presented their seventieth anniversary play entitled "What About Tomorrow?" and the Nonpareils staged the exotic theme, "Adventures in Paradise." On page three the true reason for the societies was reached. The Forensic Term afforded competitive debates, a Bible reading contest, and other varied events. Page four brought to a close the society year with the Commencement Term exercises.

Each semester an opportunity to make Scholastic Headlines is given to any student who is willing to put forth genuine interest, a great deal of study, and perseverance. It is a merit worthy of praise to be invited to join an honor club. Such qualifications as thirty quality points with no grade below C and at least a B on the particular subject represented by the club and other personal requirements must be met. The English, History, Modern Language, Music, Bible, Business, and Science honor clubs hold monthly meetings to present programs of interest to club members.

HONOR CLUBS

International Relations Club

The International Relations Club, representing the social sciences, offers students an insight into past and present world affairs. Guest speakers, film strips, and informal discussions are presented at various times throughout the year. The club attempts to study world situations with an unbiased viewpoint in an effort to make each member a more intelligent and alert citizen of the United States and the world.

Scriblerus Club

The Scriblerus Club, composed of the honor English students, seeks to foster appreciation for the best in literature. Monthly programs are designed to create interest and kindle imaginations. Particular emphasis is placed on the study of the literary background of the countries of the world.

Business Club

The members of the Business Honor Club seek to stimulate interest in business activities, develop a knowledge of business ethics, keep abreast of current methods of business, and develop pleasing personality traits which are essential in business.

Monthly meetings feature guest speakers, field trips, and programs by the members of the club.

French Club

"Parlez - vous Francais?" Outstanding programs about the French people, their country, their customs, and their history are regularly presented in the French Club. Guest speakers often help the members understand the French culture. The club is outstanding among the modern language clubs at Mars Hill College.

Spanish Club

An opportunity to become better acquainted with the life, customs, and literature of the Spanish-speaking nations is offered to members of the Spanish Club. This understanding is gained by the various programs and projects of the club members. Movies about the Latin American countries and Spain are shown in the Audio-Visual room of the library. Spanish magazine reports, short stories, and classics are very often read and discussed in the meetings. Special guest speakers give further knowledge of our Spanish-speaking neighbors.

The Bible Honor Club offers its members an opportunity for more study and a deeper understanding of the Bible. Programs feature the study of ancient Hebrew customs, modern Christian customs, and beliefs and customs of other great world religions.

Orpheon Club

The music honor club offers its members an opportunity to discuss and enjoy all phases of the music world. Programs include musical games, concerts, and guest speakers.

Science Club

Members of the Science Club receive a deeper insight into the latest scientific development and progress of research in the various fields of science. Discussions and programs are often drawn from papers written by students or from special research projects.

German Club

For honor students in German this club promotes group discussions, movies, and lectures about the language, history, and customs of the German people.

Forensics Club

A great deal of interest was shown in the Mars Hill Forensics Team this year. Coached by Mr. Gentry Crisp, the team once again established an excellent reputation in forensics among both junior and senior colleges. This year the team faced such strong opponents as the United States Naval Academy and a team from Duke University. In the fall the team had some practice debates with Gardner-Webb College and East Tennessee College. Then the new members of the team attended the annual Novic Debate Tournament at Wake Forest College where they held up Mars Hill's good record. In the spring, Mr. Crisp formed a debating class which was very successful. After attending the South Atlantic Forensics Tournament at Hickory, where our debaters did very well, the team traveled to Carson-Newman College in Jefferson City, Tennessee. These tournaments included competition in oral reading, radio, speech, public address, and problem solving besides the full rounds of debate. The year was climaxed by a junior college tournament held at Appalachian College in Boone. The debate topic for the year was Resolved that the United States should adopt a program of compulsory health insurance for all citizens.

Dramateers

EXTRA! EXTRA! The Dramateers acclaim another successful year on Mars Hill Campus! The Dramateers, directed by Elizabeth Watson, has served as an outlet for those students on campus interested in dramatics and has provided entertainment for the student body throughout the year.

Participating in the thirty-eighth annual session of the Carolina Dramatic Association in Chapel Hill, the Dramateers entered three plays, "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals"; "Free Haircuts Tomorrow," by Elizabeth Watson; and "Roses in the Dust," by John Morrow. All three plays were given "excellent" rating on presentation.

ELIZABETH
WEBSTER WATSON

Mrs. Watson was the winner of the Pearl Setzer Deal award at the annual Carolina Festival at Chapel Hill last spring for her play entitled "Where'er the Sun."

The major fall production was William Saroyan's unusual play, "The Cave Dwellers." The play was filled with warm open-heartedness and unpatronizing fondness for the misfits of the world. The misfits were John Morrow as an old clown, Feriel Forbus as an aged actress, Bill Deans as an ex-prize fighter, and B. J. Bowling as a waif.

The Dramateers presented Moliere's hilarious comedy, "The Imaginary Invalid," as its first production. Faculty members and summer school students made up the cast. The play was presented especially for the incoming Freshmen class.

The Christmas play chosen for production this year was "The Gift of Tenyin," by John Tumpene. The action took place in Japan on the night of Christ's birth. Belva Hudson played the part of Tenyin. Her father, the emperor, was portrayed by Roy Mehaffey.

College Marshals

Again the headlines of the Mars Hill news shift to the page of honor. The centers of attraction here are the College Marshals. Each year, from the student body, a select few are chosen as college marshals. These marshals are chosen by the faculty and receive this honor because of their good character, attractive personality and outstanding scholarship. It is the duty of the marshals to act as ushers for special occasions and performances and to assist guests in any way possible.

Art Club

The Art Club, although not an honor club, is composed mainly of art majors. The Art Club meets once a month for the purpose of promoting a general interest in art on the campus. The activities of the club include exhibits and various drawing and craft projects. All students who are interested in art, who seek the fellowship of other art admirers, and who welcome constructive criticism from one who is well qualified to give it, should join the Art Club. Mr. Joe Robertson is the Art Club's advisor. Familiarization with the materials and techniques used in art and its related fields is brought about through illustrated lectures, art films, and other projects sponsored by the club.

Home Economics Club

Membership in the Home Economics Club is open to all students who are interested in, are taking, or have completed a course in the field of Home Economics. Members of the club enjoy activities ranging from outdoor suppers to formal teas. Participation in the club gives members valuable experience in clothing construction, food selection and preparation, and home interior decorating.

Nursing Club

The pre-nursing students at Mars Hill compose the membership of the Nursing Club. The future nurses enjoy meeting together to share ideas along the lines of their mutual aspirations and intended professions. The college infirmary provides a suitable setting for the meetings of the Nursing Club.

Members: Sue Milburn, Melba Bryson, Shirley Denchfield, Linda Warwick, Sandra Harvey, Jeannie Johnson, Pat Dixon, Jane Haywood, Eva Brewer, Linda Shermer.

Men's Student Council

The Men's Student Council endeavors to maintain high standards and enforce regulations among the students. The council is composed of the president, vice-president, and secretary of each of the five men's dormitories, and the presidents of each of the cottages. Officers this year were: President, John Fisher; Vice-President, John Randolph Riddle; Secretary, Dave Coffey.

Seated: Gary Morris, Randy Riddle, John Fisher, Dave Coffey, Richard Gray. Standing: Dean Lynch, Charles Coble Adams, Coolidge Porterfield, Harry DeLoach.

Women's Student Council

The Women's Student Council strives to promote student democracy and honesty on Mars Hill campus. The council held regular meetings throughout the year to discuss problems which arose in the dormitories and on campus. Officers this year were: President, Virginia Webb; Vice-President, Florence Grey; Secretary, Marie Newton.

Seated: Jane Fogle, Florence Gray, Virginia Webb, Marie Newton, Zella Moore. Standing: Sandy Nolan, Jean Yoder, Cecelia Riggsbee, Rita Reid, Carolyn Everidge.

The College Choir

The Mars Hill College Choir is perhaps one of the best advertisements our college can provide. Through its many local appearances and its extensive tours, the College Choir carries the spirit of Mars Hill College to any audience for which it performs.

This year, the choir under the excellent direction of Mr. Thomas J. Cole, toured portions of Maryland, Virginia, and North Carolina. They presented programs in churches, high schools, and other colleges.

The Band

One of the hottest news stories on campus this year was our College Band. Under the superb direction of John Sumrall, the band added life and color to Mars Hill campus life. Playing and marching for the football games, presenting Thanksgiving, spring and graduation concerts, and playing for chapel were just a few of its activities. This year the band presented concerts in several high schools in North Carolina.

The Campus Choir

What headlines would be complete without a song from the Mars Hill College Campus Choir? Members of the choir find endless enjoyment and value in participation throughout the year. Membership is open to the entire student body and especially to students who enjoy an opportunity to "lift up their voices" in fellowship, fun and song. The Campus Choir, composed of mixed voices, has presented numerous programs on campus and in churches of the surrounding community.

By SANDY RAGSDALE

One thing was very evident during this week — this "revival" was backed by prayer. Even months before Christian Focus Week began, there were small prayer groups formed, in the boys' dorms, girls' dorms. Sunday School classes, Training Unions, and hall prayer meetings.

The Baptist Student Union

Certainly the biggest news story on campus this year was the work of the Baptist Student Union. The purpose of the B.S.U. is to link the college students and the local church in an active program to promote spiritual and social life on Mars Hill Campus. The B.S.U. is composed of all Baptist students belonging to the different church-affiliated organizations on campus and in the Mars Hill Baptist Church, such as the Training Union, Sunday School, Young Women's Auxiliary, Ministerial Conference, and Volunteers for Christ. The Executive Council is annually elected by the students to supervise and coordinate the work of the various organizations.

The purpose of the B.S.U. is to serve as the unifying bond that links the college students with the local Baptist Church.

Ministerial Conference

All ministerial students enrolled in Mars Hill College are automatically members of the Ministerial Conference. Weekly meetings offer them training in preaching and Bible reading. The meetings are planned with the aid of faculty counselors to instruct and unite them in their desire to lead themselves and others to a fuller realization of the Christian life. These ministerial students help with each of the Sunday evening worship services and take charge of the entire service once each quarter.

Volunteers For Christ

Volunteers for Christ is composed of young Christians who have dedicated their lives to Christian service. Meeting once a month, they are presented with the needs of the people all over the world and are constantly challenged to meet these needs. Realizing the necessity of preparation for the task ahead, they come together in fellowship with one another and with God to strengthen each other and better acquaint themselves with the wide world, hoping someday to take the greatest challenge of all — "Go ye . . ."

DIXIE LOYCE CHASTAIN
Y.W.A. Campus President

Young Women's Auxiliary

The purpose of the Y.W.A. is to unite Baptist young women to advance missions by gathering to study about missions in programs and study courses, to pray intelligently for missions, to give to missions, to live for Christ constantly. . . In other words, to put the 'Miss' into 'Missions.'

Mission Council

Through the Mission Council, Mars Hill radiates the Christian atmosphere for which it is so distinguished. Inspired by the desire of students spread the Gospel, the Mission Council conducts week-end services at Oteen Veterans Hospital, Cane River Prison Camp, and at Mt. Olive Baptist Church. With the aid of the faithful 'mission buggy,' the council travels to various churches to conduct week-end revivals. All their activities are geared to keep them busy for Christ.

Methodist Student Movement

This year the Methodist students on campus had their own church in which to worship Christ. The members are provided opportunities to achieve the objective of spiritual growth church services, group meetings, fellowship suppers, and parties. A constant spirit of friendly cooperation exist between the M.S.M. and the B.S.U.

Canterbury Club

Episcopalians enrolled at Mars Hill may join the Canterbury Club. Members meet for fellowship, instruction, and to obtain a better understanding of the Episcopal Church. In conjunction with the B.S.U., the Westminster Fellowship, and the Methodist Student Movement, the Canterbury Club promotes Christian ideals on campus.

Seated: Jane Tharin, Debbie Edwards, Garnette Jones. Standing: Johnny Grier, Bud Schoolar, Jack Stokes.

Westminster Fellowship

The Westminster Fellowship is the organization for all Presbyterian students on Mars Hill's campus. Members hold regular meetings in which they work toward a better understanding of the principles of the Presbyterian Church and to promote Christian fellowship. They work in close cooperation with the B.S.U.

Lions And Bulldogs Deadlock, 12-12 Before Large Homecoming Crowd

Fired up by the presence of an enthusiastic Homecoming crowd, the Mars Hill Lions battled the Gardner-Webb Bulldogs, who were strong favorites in pregame prediction, to a 12-12 deadlock. This was the third time that the Lions have been involved in tie games this season and the second time with Gardner-Webb. The first meeting of the two teams at Gardner-Webb ended in a 6-6 draw.

The game was filled with excitement and thrilling plays by both teams. The Lions and Bulldogs felt the importance of the traditional clash between the schools and fought hard for victory. Mars Hill got off to a slow start, with Gardner-Webb pushing across the first score, but came roaring back in the second quarter, led by co-captain Buddy Windle.

McRae carried a 15-0 lead of the field at half-time.

Both Lees-McRae touchdowns were set up by breaks, as they recovered a Mars Hill fumble and intercepted a pass. A bad snap by Mars Hill center Tommy Frazier went over the head of halfback Don Bibb, who was attempting to punt, and rolled out of the end zone for a safety, giving Lees-McRae their final two points.

Halfback Larry Honeycutt and guard Dick Albert stood out for the Lions in a losing cause. Honeycutt moved the ball well on offense at times, and Albert led the forward wall on defense with numerous tackles. McLeod and Terry Postell were offensive standouts for Lees-McRae, while Jack Campbell was a defensive

FOOTBALL 1960

Although the Mars Hill Lions did not succeed in recapturing the W.C.J.C.C. Championship, this is no reflection on the squad. The record compiled by the Lions does not adequately nor fairly evaluate the effort put forth by the team and the coaches.

Coach Henderson and Coach Wood were faced with the task of rebuilding, and this was a very important factor. There were seven returning lettermen, and the majority were linemen. The only returning backs were Buddy Windle and John Fisher. Fullback Fisher was injured early in the season, and saw no further action. Returning linemen were "Groundhog" Thompson, Ford Parker, Robert Wright, Tom Stanford, and Clarence Maxey. These seven lettermen carried a heavy load in the gridiron contests throughout the season.

The team of 1960 was characterized by hard-fought ties, bad breaks, and inexperience. On numerous occasions the Lions seemed to have victory at their fingertips, only to see the game deadlocked in the final minutes. The Lions were unable to break the spell with arch rival Gardner-Webb, as the two teams tied in both games. Despite three setbacks, the Lions worked hard and succeeded in shaping a balanced ball club. The quarterback slot was the big "if" in the '60 squad. Scott Conner, Louis Kendrick, and Dennis Corn constantly sought to produce an efficient aerial attack.

Managers

LEONARD EDWARDS

The offensive load was carried by Co-Captain Buddy Windle, Larry Honeycutt, Don Bibb, and Stan Wrinkle. Windle displayed the running ability and hustle that established him as one of the finest backs in the conference. Coach Henderson converted quarterback Tim Cowin into a speedster and has high hopes for the agile halfback.

The defensive nucleus was spearheaded by Co-Captain Ford Parker, Dick Albert, Robert Wright, and "Groundhog" Thompson. In addition to these were Clarence Maxey, R. B. Hembree, Bill Lang, Richard Famiglietti, Larry Bruce, and Cyril Rice. This corps of linemen performed admirably as they displayed the bustle and fight required for a hard-hitting line.

In view of the future, the success of 1961 depends upon the application of newly acquired experience, developed ability, and a fighting, hustling spirit that is characteristic of the Lions gridiron squad.

PARKER AND HENDERSON ALL-CONFERENCE

End Ford Parker and Guard Ronnie Henderson were selected to the W.C.J.C.C. All-Conference Team. Halfback Buddy Windle was named as honorable mention.

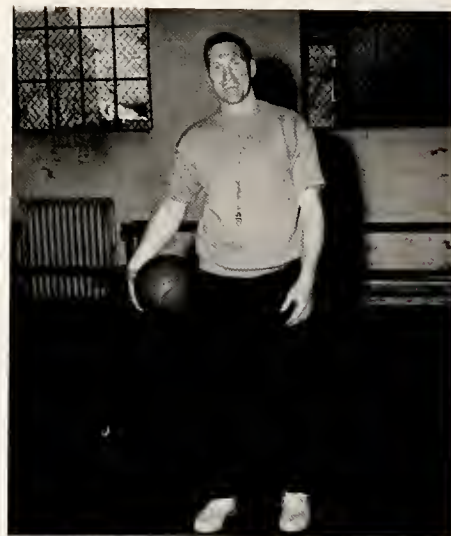

OUTSTANDING PLAYERS SELECTED

The most valuable player award was received by Buddy Windle, best blocker by Robert Wright, and best defensive by Ronnie Henderson.

THE LIONS IN ACTION

THE 1961 BASKETBALL TEAM

Coach Harrell Wood's Mars Hill Lions compiled an over-all record of 8-12, and a conference record of 5-9. This record, showing a notable improvement over the record compiled by the team of 1960, can be contributed to much hard work and newly acquired value.

The Lions were proud of Co-Captains Bill Young and Dave Hughes. This duet scored consistently in the double figures, and Young was the Lions' leading scorer for the second consecutive year with a 13.6 point average per game. Freshman Scott Conner did an excellent job and proved to be an agile ball handler, as well as having a keen eye for the basket. Bob Holsten and Joe Martin performed admirably underneath the baskets, as did Don Hinton. Martin and Holsten were the work horses of the rebounding machine.

Wesley Hargett, Mackie McLendon, Blake Davis, and Ronnie Kates saw frequent action and added much to the ball club.

Guards Dave Hughes and Scott Conner are to be commended for the fire and hustle displayed on defense. Bill Young also excelled as a better man on the boards, and constantly picked off opposing team passes.

As for the prospects of '62, the team will be centered around Scott Conner, Ronnie Kates, and Blake Davis. Hopes are high, and the on-coming seasons hold many exciting moments for the supporters of the hardwood classic.

Scott Conner was named to the All-Tournament Team.

HONORABLE MENTIONS

Forward Bill Young and Guard Scott Conner were selected as honorable mentions to the All-Conference Team. Conner was named to the W.C.J.C.C. Tournament Team.

61

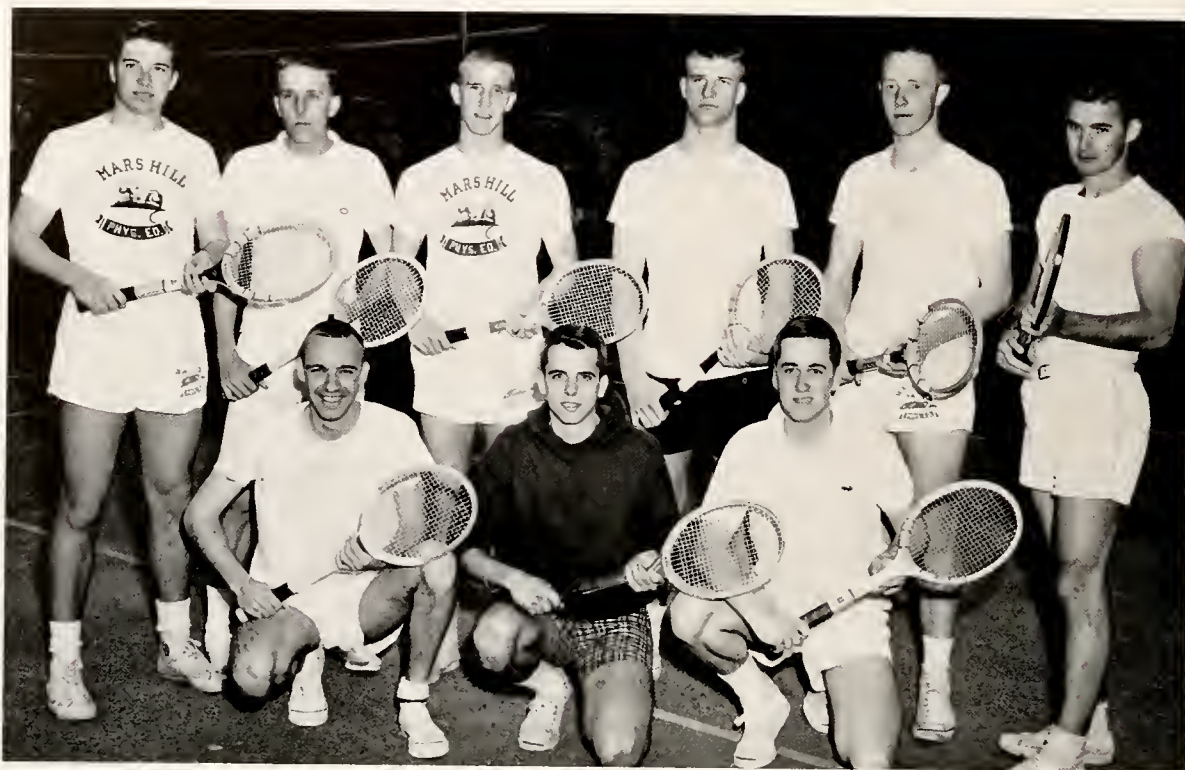

The Baseball Squad of 1961 was packed with potential and contained many versatile players. There were seven returning lettermen and all were starters from the team of 1960.

Jimmy Tate, Ron Pare, and David "Stump" Beck were relied upon to handle the pitching chores. Beck and Pare regularly worked as infielders to form the double play combination.

Johnny Riddle, All-American and All-Conference outfielder, catcher Larry Lawson, first baseman Morris Mason, and third baseman "Moe" Richardson rounded out the squad. These team members formed the bases for the club, and the number one object was the W.C.J.C.C. Championship.

Tennis

Coach Virginia Hart's net men once again captured the North Carolina Junior College Championship. This marked the seventh consecutive year in which the Lions succeeded in taking top honors.

The team was paced by Bernie Baker, Bob Glover, Jim McCarson, John Jordon, David Scruggs, and Walker Pettyjohn. These six men led the Lions to an undefeated season, as they won six matches while losing none.

Since becoming head coach of the tennis team, Coach Hart has succeeded in winning the conference championship every year. This is a remarkable record and admirable achievement.
